ARE YOU HAVING A DILEMMA? VISIT SOUTH BAY CENTER FOR DISPUTE RESOLUTION!

Torrance residents who have previously visited City Hall to seek assistance in resolving various disputes or disagreements have another helpful resource. Situations wherein neighbors complain about issues such as common fences, loud parties, new construction, property encroachment issues, maintenance issues, tenant and landlord issues, consumers and merchants disputes on quality of products or services, and many others, may just be the beginning of possible dilemmas for a community to face.

In many cases City staff including code enforcement, safety and service officers, do not have the authority to intervene since these disputes are typically civil in nature. Such disputes may not directly involve a violation of the Municipal Code or state law. The City of Torrance, however, has provided a way to assist in these matters.

The City of Torrance has contracted with the South Bay Center for Dispute Resolution (the Center) in order to help achieve resolution of these kind of dilemmas through mediation. The Center offers trained professional neutrals who serve in the role of mediators to help parties fashion a resolution that is convenient, effective, and tailored to specifically meet their needs and address their concerns. The Center's services are available free of charge to residents, businesses, landlords, and tenants.

The South Bay Center for Dispute Resolution has resolved a countless number of issues throughout the City of Torrance and can do the same for you. So, rather than feuding, contact the Center to get assistance. Bilingual mediators are available as well. The Center can be reached at (310) 376-7007, or visit the company's website at www.sbcdr.net.

TORRANCE'S CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION – 2012

In 2012, the City of Torrance will be celebrating its Centennial Celebration. The Centennial Committee, established by the Torrance City Council in 2009, has been planning fun-filled and educational events in the City to celebrate the City's first 100 years. At the Council meeting held last February, the City Council approved a partial list of events as part of the City's celebration including a Light Show, Torrance Centennial, along with other fun events. More events will be added as planning progresses. Information about official Centennial events will be posted on www.TorranceCentennial.Org. The Torrance community is invited to participate by attending the events or getting involved in the planning!

Starting in March, the Centennial Committee meets on the 2nd and 4th Monday of the month, from 7:00-9:00pm at the Torrance Area Chamber of Commerce. The first portion of the meeting is the full Centennial Committee and the second portion consists of the subcommittee meetings. All meetings are open to the public.

For more information on the Centennial Committee meetings, visit www.TorranceCA.Gov/Centennial.htm or contact staff liaisons, Fran Fulton, Eleanor B. Jones, or Gesuina Paras at (310) 618-5880.

TORRANCE ADVANTAGE AWARDS: "ACCELERATE YOUR BUSINESS!"

On March 24, 2011, the City of Torrance hosted its fourth annual business recognition event- the Torrance Advantage Awards Ceremony with the theme "Accelerate Your Business with the Torrance Advantage!" at the Toyota USA Automobile Museum. The Torrance Advantage Awards recognize economic development strategies of local significance and give thanks to businesses for their contribution in enriching the vitality of the Torrance community in the year 2010.

The ongoing tradition continued with eight awards being presented in four categories. Each of the categories reflects key areas that align with the goals of the Economic Development program. In addition to the prestigious trophy, recipients received $200 to help with operating expenses, a signed letter of recognition from the mayor of Torrance, and will be featured on the City's website www.TorranceCA.Gov and other promotional avenues available to the City. The following businesses received the 2010 Torrance Advantage Awards:

"Enriching the Community" Recognizes businesses for their excellence in contributing to the prosperity of Torrance through increase in revenue and tax base.

Scott Robinson Honda

Scott Robinson Honda is a family owned and operated business. Throughout its 50 years of operation in Torrance, it has helped customers select the right vehicle for their needs. Despite a downturned economy, Scott Robinson Honda is able to report success with a 10% sales increase. With its success, it's helping provide Torrance with the wherewithal to offer vital services, key programs and activities to the community.

Cookin' Stuff

Cookin' Stuff enriches the Torrance community unlike any other business because it enhances a vital experience in any one's life- dining. Whether it's to cook or bake; at home or at a business; for family, or friends; dining flavors the experiences that shape our lives. So Cookin' Stuff products support a necessary element and perhaps one of the most broadly enjoyed experiences that influence lives, relationships, and as such, a whole community. Its slogan, "If we don't have it...you don't need it" speaks volumes about its efforts to address the cooking needs of the Torrance community.

"Quality of Life Community Investor" Recognizes businesses whose products, systems, methods and services contribute significantly to the improvement of the quality of life for the Torrance community.

Miyako Hybrid Hotel

From its inception, Miyako's intent to be a positive force in the Torrance community was evident. Using green practices throughout its operations earned Miyako the Silver LEED designation from the U.S. Green Building Council. With its focus on sustainability, Miyako has pushed Torrance forward in its conservation efforts, and has brought renewed interest in Torrance. Additionally, it helped sustain numerous other organizations and businesses in the community. Non-profit organizations, and other businesses, have benefited from the monetary and in-kind contributions it offers. By offering a new, wonderful facility, in a beautiful property, activities and events are refreshed and community life in Torrance is revitalized.

Luminit

Luminit's products are a result of the high technology, extensive research, and innovative thinking that makes the company a success. Perhaps unknown to most, but it's through Luminit's work that the word "new" gains validity when introduced as new technology. Its light diffusers are key components to many innovative products that provide greater efficiency in business, convenience and enjoyment in our personal lives, advances in the medical field and science, and momentum for green technology. This is all possible because of the pervasive progressive mindset within the company, the uninhibited passion for developing new technology and commitment to work closely with customers to address their own business needs.

"People to People Award" Recognizes organization's ability to enhance employment opportunities in Torrance. Organizations that show commitment to its current employees, offering motivational programs are also recognized.

Home Instead Senior Care

Home Instead Senior Care (HISC) has been serving the City of Torrance since 1999 by providing affordable, non-medical solutions for individuals seeking assistance with everyday tasks that allow them to live independently. Through HISC, "aging in place" is not just a goal; it's reality for many. In an industry where 100-150% employee turnover per year is the norm, HISC does well in motivating employees by offering opportunities to make a difference in the community they serve. HISC ensures that employees experience the benefits of their work by involving staff in community organizations. This in turn provides for a fulfilling work life, which is the ultimate employee motivation and retention strategy.

YogaFit

Since bringing YogaFit to Torrance, owner Beth Shaw, defied the idea that a yoga practice and operating a highly-successful business is an oxymoron. Besides its financial success, YogaFit has been giving back to the Torrance community, starting with employing local residents, inspiring future yoga teachers to bring yoga to the community with its unique training program, and serving as an example of a company that aligns business practices with its core values. At YogaFit, well-being in mind is not just words on a wall; it's where employees practice healthy living and proper nutrition daily. Physical benefits of the yoga training become a consequence of the positive work environment; and positive client interactions and overall success become a consequence of the good relationships such business practices foster.

"Long-Term Investor" Recognizes businesses that have demonstrated excellence throughout the years with sustained success through partnerships, innovative strategies and continuous effort toward progress.

Lauridsen Ballet Centre

Lauridsen Ballet Centre can be called one of the cornerstones of downtown Torrance since it was established in 1980. It has become the leading pre-professional dance school in the South Bay and L.A. County. At the Centre, the students learn ballet techniques while learning confidence, concentration, discipline, teamwork and fulfill their passion for the arts. It's a place that molds young students into individuals who appreciate beauty, hard work, and contribution to the community. It's a business that feels like home to its students and their families as they connect with one another and find within the Centre's own staff and members, people they can turn to for assistance in issues that go beyond ballet lessons. Lauridsen Ballet Centre shows what makes Torrance the "city with a hometown feel" at the same time a city that looks to and helps prepare for the future through its investment in the community.

Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A.

Since locating its national headquarters in Torrance during its 25th anniversary, Toyota has forged a long-lasting relationship with the City and the community. With a commitment to continuous improvement ("kaizen"), Toyota has stayed relevant, created remarkable customer loyalty for its products, and positioned itself as a leader in environmental issues and a vital member of the local, regional, and the world community. Its commitment to education and safety is evident through its support of local organizations such as the Torrance Education Foundation or programs such as the Toyota Teen Driver program. Since its arrival to Torrance, it has proven to be one the City's longest standing businesses, one of its largest employers, and a key partner in enriching life of the Torrance community.

The City of Torrance congratulates all Award recipients and encourages all Torrance-based businesses to become involved and participate in the 2011 Torrance Advantage Awards. For more information visit www.TorranceCA.Gov/TAA.htm or contact the Economic Development Office (310) 618-5807 or EconomicDevelopment@TorranceCA.Gov.
